The Japanese in Chicago

CHICAGO [illegible] —The following is the address of welcome [illegible] by Mayor Medill to the Japanese Embassy last evening

Prince Iwakura, Chief Envoy of the Japanese Embassy A few weeks ago I had the honor of exchanging salutations with your excellency by telegraph but while though the inventive genius of Americans has enabled us to transmit messages across the continent and over the mountains in defiance of the elements it has not been able to transport trains without detention when the snow king holds his revels among the Rocky Mountains But it is a pleasure to know that you were in the society of Saints while you practiced the virtue of patience But all is well that ends well Now that you have arrived in safety after a long and weary delay we extend both our sympathy and welcome The people of this country entertain sentiments of respect and kindred feelings for your countrymen and wish to foster and encourage trade and commerce Japan will always find sympathizing friends in America Your country is nearest ours of the Asiatic nations Steam navigation has reduced distance and made them neighbors Before long they will be connected by telegraphic cables and brought hourly into communication Under the wise and sagacious rulership of the present Emperor Japan has taken the lead of all Oriental nations and is leaving the far behind in the march of improvement She is showing herself not too proud to learn from other nations and people and to prefer the glorious sunlight of modern civilization to the dim darkness of non intercourse We are rejoiced to hear that she has naturalized two great motives of modern progress steam and electricity and is now actively engaged in building steamships and lines of telegraph and railways, using steam power for general manufacturing purposes making labor saving agricultural implements and establishing modern smelting works for making iron and steel The power of a nation is measured by the extent of its use of this metal We feel flattered at the partiality Japan has shown for Americans and their inventions Your Government has recently selected as Commissioner of Agriculture General Capron, a citizen of Illinois to instruct its farmers in the use of American implements, of husbandry and methods of cultivation The increasing number of Japanese students in America, and European colleges is another sure sign of real progress for these young men will carry back with them the literature and sciences of our Universities and become teachers of the same in their own country We call it a compliment that among students in our schools are your own sons and our pleasure is heightened by the information that you have brought the first delegation of young ladies to finish their education in our female Seminaries We assure you they will be tenderly treated and their stay in our country made agreeable Citizens of Chicago regret it is not in their power to show your Embassy the degree of attention they would, in consequence of the recent calamity which laid the better part of our city in ruins But we propose to exhibit what is left and what is being done to replace what was so suddenly destroyed and hope that your stay in Chicago may be pleasant and that you will carry away agreeable impressions of our people

Iwakura made a reply He said For myself and on behalf of those who are with me I desire to thank you Mr Mayor, and those whom you represent, for the kind manner in which we have been received Our visit to America is for the purpose of gaining knowledge with regard to your institutions which we may put in use when we return to Japan. Iwatuka is a friend to those who speak the English language I have heard of your city before I left my native land I sympathize with you in your great disaster but the manner in which you are restoring what you have lost is most gratifying and is another evidence of the wonderful recuperative power of the American people after suffering severe injuries Allow me to congratulate you on the great future that is before you and in closing again to thank you for this kind hearty welcome,

WASHINGTON Feb 28 —The House Committee on Commerce have agreed to Representative Shellabarger's bill with amendments The bill was founded on a bill heretofore recommended to the Committee by the Secretary of the Treasury and approved by the Secretary of the Navy In its amended form the Secretary of the Treasury, Secretary of War Postmaster General and Secretary of the Interior constitute a Board of Commissioners They are authorized to contract for a line from New York to England and the continent of Europe and from other points on the Atlantic coast to Europe a line from New York to Mexico, a line from San Francisco to Australia, and another to the East India Islands, and one from New Orleans to a Mexican port and to pay $10 per ton per annum for five years to an extent not exceeding five hundred thousand tons one hundred thousand the first year fifty thousand of which is to be distributed to the Atlantic and Gulf coast twenty five thousand to the Pacific and twenty thousand to the Mississippi and Ohio rivers and the Great Lakes for iron ships of American construction $8 per ton for ships of over 400 tons burden and $6 per ton for wooden ships of over 200 tons burden The bill authorizes the Commissioners to allow the same tonnage bounty to lines already subsidized which include lines from New York to Brazil and from San Francisco to China The bill also includes a line from New Orleans to Brazil

Lynch offered an amendment providing that imported materials used for the construction of ships shall be free from duty or where American material is used an amount equal to the duty shall be allowed The committee will be called next week when the bill will be reported For five years the cost to the Government will be twenty five million dollars Provided iron ships shall be constructed to the extent of 200 000 tons, the allowance to wooden vessels would be additional

At a meeting held last night under the auspices of the American Peace Society to discuss the Washington treaty Reverdy Johnson made a speech of two hours duration In the course of which he said it was clear that the preferment of consequential claims by the United States before the Geneva Convention was not contemplated by the High Commissioner Under the terms of the treaty there were three modes of settling First England should consent to permit the claim to go before the Geneva Commission and if that decided it had jurisdiction of question it would reject the claims Second the withdrawal of the claim by the United States He would advise such withdrawal Third the postponement of the subject to future negotiations

The Texas Pacific Railroad

WASHINGTON Feb 28 —Yesterday Representative Wheeler introduced a bill to amend the act incorporating the Texas Pacific Railroad which was referred to the Committee on Pacific Railroads It provides for longer time for the completion of the west end of the road and authorizes the issue of consolidated bonds for this road and roads which it absorbs namely the Southern Pacific and Memphis and El Paso railroads

Thanksgiving for the Recovery of the Prince of Wales

LONDON Feb 2 —At the celebration in honor of the recovery of the Prince of Wales the streets were thronged houses and public places were decorated and the spectators were numbered by millions Fabulous prices were paid for available seats to witness the procession There were 12 000 soldiers and almost the entire police force to guard the streets The procession moved at the ringing of bells and a [illegible] children

The great bodies of the kingdom were represented and several regiments of the army furnished detachments The Prince looked stronger than was expected Immense cheering greeted him The day was observed as a legal holiday throughout the kingdom Thanksgiving services took place as is reported, in the principal cities in Ireland Special prayer was offered by order of the Bishops, at the Irish church in Dublin. At Berlin and elsewhere on the continent the English assembled in their churches and held thanksgiving services

A special dispatches from Bombay states that the Governor and officials attended the Cathedral in state, the Parsees assembled in their fire temples the Jews in their Synagogues the Hindoos in the Temples and the Mohammedans and other religious sects in their several places of worship and offered thanks according to their various rules for the recovery of the English Prince

Great preparations have been made for the illumination of the western front and the entire dome of St. Paul's to night with ship lanterns and lime lights The Bank of England club houses and all the public buildings and stores will be illuminated and thousands of private dwellings etc are making similar preparations The streets through which the procession passed were festooned with parti colored lanterns along the entire route The illumination will continue to morrow night

LONDON, Feb 27.—Several serious accidents happened to day owing to the pressure of great masses of spectators in the line of procession One man was crushed to death in Trafalgar Square, and numbers of people were more or less injured, Two stands, each containing 150 persons fell, and many were badly bruised

Dispatches from Dublin say that the celebration there was a splendid success There was a procession to St Patrick's Cathedral Te Deum was sung in the presence of the Lord Lieutenant and all the principal officers of the Government and in the evening the city was brilliantly illuminated

PROCEEDINGS OF THE PIONEER AND HISTORICAL SOCIETY OF OREGON

ASTORIA, Feb 22, 1872

According to previous arrangement by the Executive Board of the Pioneer and Historical Society of Oregon its members and the citizens of Astoria, with citizens from other parts of the State and country met at the Court House at Astoria at one o clock P M this day The President called the meeting to order and requested the volunteer amateur singers to open by singing a piece called "One Hundred Years Ago," after which Rev T A. Hyland was requested to lead in prayer

The President then presented his address as follows

THE ADDRESS

Ladies and Gentlemen, Pioneers and Fellow citizens I am not accustomed to addressing a public assembly, as you all know, My life from my youth has been spent in Oregon You will not expect from me an eloquent address or brilliant speech If you do, disappointment awaits you for I feel and know my utter inability to produce anything of the kind.

Allow me first to thank God that the banner of our common country now floats triumphantly from my native State, New Hampshire, to the utmost verge of my adopted State of Oregon

Next I would thank this Society for the honor conferred on one who feels himself so utterly incompetent to perform its duties yet, by your generosity, placed in this high position Allow me to say that no superior talent, no act of mine, except the wild and far-wandering thoughts of my youth brought me to this country You have taken me from the thoughts of my farm and its cultivation placed me at the head of your society—one that will live while the country I so wildly sought in my youth remains a bright untarnished star in the American Republic

Why did you do this?

Thoughts fly back forty years—memory can yet recall their history With your aid it shall be preserved in our archives

In the preamble and the second article of our Constitution the motives and objects of our existence as a Society are clearly stated These objects carried out will transmit to future ages a page in the history of this Western coast that none of our descendants will blush to read

But few of our early associate pioneers can now join us in our meeting yet with the aid of the press we can send to them a cheerful word We can say to them, after so many years of toil and labor and trial God be praised for what He has done for our country, and for us as pioneers! We can join to honor and adore the Being that has led and kept us these many years and has helped us to start and aid in building up three States and seven Territories on this Pacific slope And to day we rejoice not only that He gave our fathers a Washington and a Nation but that He gave us a Whitman and an Oregon

In articles that frequently appear in our public journals we are urged to make up our record This, friends and fellow citizens we have now commenced doing While the rising generation and the recent arrivals in our country are shouting steamboats railroads and telegraphs they ask us to go back to our native canoes our ox wagons and cayuse horses, and tell them of early times in this vast country Our record may be long or short, one thing we know God has kept and preserved us and to day the first anniversary of our Society 140 years since the birth of the Father of our country we meet to look over a 40 years page in our own history To fill this page we already have the pledge and experience of travelers Missionaries and settlers Our President might add to this number U S Senators Executive officers Judges, Representatives of States eminent lawyers and honorable citizens, not forgetting the 1 Governors of our own State —[illegible] It now devolves upon this Society in the language of our Constitution to collect collate and have published the pages in an authentic record properly certified to by the actors We now have upon our record book 69 male and 34 female members Our roll of corresponding and honorary members 4 names No death has diminished our roll of members the past year

THE TREASURY

Our Treasury like the purse of the early pioneer is nearly empty and like the early pioneer of the country liable to increase The Executive Board having proceeded cautiously no debt is incurred

The efforts for a library reading room and printing press will be duly reported by the committee having those objects in charge. The Corresponding Secretary's report will give you the names of corresponding and honorary members who have accepted

Not being situated so that I could attend at the regular monthly meetings of the Board it is with pleasure I can fully approve its proceedings and have no doubt this Society will agree with me

The President then called for the Corresponding Secretary's report which was presented and read This report is too lengthy to give entire In view of other communications he has made to the press portions of it will be omitted and the whole considerably condensed

REPORT

The first action of the Executive Board, after becoming duly incorporated as per laws of Oregon and procuring a seal was to order the Corresponding Secretary to prepare and have printed a letter and a circular stating briefly the objects of the Society At the several regular monthly meetings of the Board held respectively on the 15th September 21st of October 18th of November and 23d of December 1871, there were 88 corresponding and 17 honorary members elected Of that number we have received answers from the Honorables Geo H Williams J K Kelly L F Grover A C Gibbs, A A Skinner, O C Pratt H R Kincaid W Lair Hill, B F Dowell H W Scott, Wm D Hare, S Ellsworth, D Newsom, F A Hedges, J Quinn Thornton, Horace Greeley, Columbia Lancaster, Wm L Adams John Minto, R P Boise Dr Wm F Tolmie Colonel T R Cornelius, President S H Marsh, D. D, Prof G H Collier Capt Enoch G Adams, S T McKean, G B Roberts Edwin Ells J M Frazer G T Allen B W Wilson, Chas Hays, J Q A Bowlby O S Phelps, Joaquin Miller and A B McKean

HONORARY MEMBERS

Governors Grover, George Abernethy Jo Lane, John Whiteaker, Honorable Wm H Seward Hamilton Fish, John Flemming, Wm S Holmes J L Meek, B. Jennings, Dr V H Dunning and Rt Rev. Wister Morris.

With this honorable and intelligent band of associates, all having expressed their cordial assent and approval of our object together with their willingness to assist us in the work before us, nothing but death should tempt us to stop short of the object proposed in the commencement of their organization We owe not only to the present but to future ages

None of us in the strength of our youth or in the toils of after years anticipated our present position We scarcely thought we were acting for more than a few hundred settlers a Territorial, and, perhaps, a State organization But three States and seven Territories in the American Union have already been organized on this western Pacific coast with a population of over half a million inhabitants * * * Books and pamphlets ready for the library and reading room number 400

TREASURER'S REPORT

Receipts $62 84 Disbursements (for seal stationery and stamps) $28 34 In the treasury, $34 50

The Secretary reported one hundred names on the roll of members, one social gathering on thanksgiving evening November 30th, 1871 and twelve regular meetings of the Executive Board

ANNUAL ADDRESS

The President then introduced Rev W A Tenney, who had been invited by the Board to deliver the annual address Mr T came forward and spoke as follows

Mr President and members of the Pioneer Historical Society No one can regret more than myself that you were unable to secure an address from the learned and eloquent pioneer to whom you first tendered an invitation

The lateness of the hour at which you solicited a speech from me, and my unacquaintance with many of the facts connected with your Society will afford a sufficient apology for the crude and scattered thoughts I may be able to advance The brief time allowed me for preparation forbids me to do justice to the object you have in view, and the occasion You have assigned me no definite topic but simply expressed the wish that I should encourage the object you have undertaken The point to which I shall aim to confine my remarks is this

THE OREGON PIONEERS AND THEIR CONTEMPLATED MONUMENT

It is allotted to some men to lay foundations, and be forgotten while those who enter into their labors, and rear the imposing structure receive the glory It has always been the office of the pioneer to lay the mud sills of civilization in a new country and generally it proves an undesirable and thankless task. This has not always been the case and need not be Explorers and travelers

As to Regulating the Sale of Liquors

Alluding to a recent article of ours on the proceedings of the Temperance Convention and on the measures suggested by that body to be presented to the Legislature at its next session, the Herald says:

There is one feature in this article to which we must direct attention. Our neighbor is especially solicitous that such legislation be had on the subject of the liquor traffic as shall "place the business in the hands of respectable men." This implies that it is not in the hands of respectable men now.

It implies that it is not wholly in the hands of respectable men now. Every person who passes along the streets of Portland with his eyes open knows that no inconsiderable part of the liquor traffic is in the hands of disreputable women. These places are nurseries of intemperance, of licentiousness and of every species of vice and crime. Few of the evils arising from the sale and consumption of liquors spring from the better class of saloons which are in the hands of respectable men and are conducted in an orderly and respectable manner. It is chiefly in those low haunts where drinking is accompanied by lascivious or other degrading amusements and where lewd women allure with meretricious arts that the abuses which are so manifest and notorious have their origin. From these places the thieves that infest the city are graduated. In them the games and devices by which swindling is carried on are concocted. From them gross drunkenness emerges to disgust all decent sensibilities and to fill the jails at the expense of the community. These are the places which would be suppressed by a law requiring a bond for good behavior to be given by the person to whom license was granted to sell liquors. Respectable men who keep decent and orderly saloons would have no difficulty in complying with the regulation. And as they, with all other good and responsible citizens, are interested in the peace and good order of the community they would be glad to have the low dens of vice and infamy abolished.

Opposition to the Administration

The Stockton (Cal.) Independent, in a just and temperate article remarks that the strongest proof of the strength of President Grant's Administration is furnished by the means taken by his opponents to bring it into disrepute, and by their efforts to organize such an opposition as may be able to defeat him at the next election. Whatever differences of opinion may exist among Republicans concerning the course of the administration upon questions of minor importance, all are ready to admit that the general management of the affairs of the Government by President Grant has been eminently praiseworthy, and it will be difficult to convince the people that an administration which has so greatly reduced the public debt and improved the National credit is deserving of the abuse so persistently heaped upon it by its opponents. The charges of corruption, nepotism and usurpation which have been so generally circulated throughout the country by the Democratic press pass unheeded by the people at large. The leaders of the political party making these accusations are obliged to admit that there is no possibility of making a successful opposition to the re-election of General Grant, except by a total renunciation of their past political principles. Although they continue to reiterate their charges against the Administration and represent it as utterly unworthy of the confidence of the people, they are continually coquetting with various partially disaffected Republicans, hoping that by selecting some prominent person of that class as their standard bearer in the next campaign, and by ignoring all past political issues, President Grant may be defeated. If the present administration is as much of a failure as it is represented to be, if the interests of the people are not being protected and the various charges made against it are true, it would appear easy to organize an opposition to prevent its further continuance in power. If the people could be made to understand that important principles are at stake, or that their interests can be better subserved by a change of the Administration, there would be no question as to their readiness to effect such change. The movements thus made, however, show that the opposition have little or no confidence in their cause. Sumner, Trumbull, Greeley and Julian may differ with Grant upon minor questions but they all manifest a remarkable unwillingness to place themselves in opposition antagonistic to the clear will of the people, who evidently are satisfied with his Administration. The great mass of the voters care little for office and if the Government is economically administered, and the peace and honor of the country maintained they are satisfied.

An Energetic 'Call'

The call issued by the Republican Committee of Douglas county for primary meetings to be held on the 2d of March enumerates some of the reasons which should incite Republicans to active exertion in the campaign now opening. In fact the call is quite a model document. We append an extract from it:

We respectfully urge upon the Republican voters of Douglas county the vital importance of attending the precinct meetings. In hope of obtaining an honest and economical administration of State and county affairs, the repeal of the oppressive litigant act, a correction of the evils threatened by the swamp land swindle, a prevention of further robbery of the irreducible school fund, two hundred thousand dollars of which were voted away by the last Legislature to political stock jobbers, and that the wishes of the people may be obeyed in all other respects, we apprehend that every good citizen will readily appreciate the necessity of making good nominations and exerting his utmost endeavors for the defeat of the present dominant party.

This is a concise presentation of the case against the present dominant party in this State. Republicans of Douglas county show that they fully comprehend the situation.

A subscription is in circulation at Salem to raise a sum of money to change the line of the railroad for the better accomodation of that place. The plan is to change the line from some point near the Fair Ground and lay it through Salem. It is understood that the railroad company will do this if citizens will pay the cost of making the change. The distance of the depot from Salem has always been a matter of great inconvenience to that place and the citizens are consulting their own interest by making an effort to obtain the change.

The Herald appears to oppose the proposition to call a special session of the Legislature, thereby disagreeing with many of its cotemporaries. In all probability there will be no special session.

PACIFIC COAST DISPATCHES.

[illegible] TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 28.—A private dispatch announces the arrival at Ogden of the English Colonial mails which will arrive here tomorrow afternoon. The sailing of the Montana is accordingly fixed for 5 P M.

It is rumored that Eureka con will commence paying a dividend very soon, and stock is being bought up extensively by private parties.

The case involving the boundary line between San Francisco and Alameda counties closed this afternoon and was taken under advisement by Judge Dwinelle.

District Attorney Murphy spoke three hours and a half in closing for the people in the Devine Kamp murder case, making a thoroughly exhaustive argument. At a quarter to three Judge McKinstry concluded his charge, and the jury went out. At four o'clock they returned for additional instructions and at seven o'clock came in with a verdict of murder in the first degree. Sentence will be pronounced Wednesday next.

When Court assembled at [illegible] P M Devine sat talking and laughing with officers and others until the jury came in, when he gave them a sharp scrutinizing glance apparently reading his fate on the instant. He sat upright as a light and impassive as an Apache until the verdict was rendered. The jury polled and the record was read, when he turned to a reporter and made a remark, shrugging his shoulders with real or affected heartlessness and indifference which would have effectually cut off any sympathy the Court or audience might have felt for him.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 28.—The Central Silver Mining Company have increased their capital stock from $540,000 to $1,000,000.

Real estate is coming in better demand than for past year. At the auction sale to-day there were large offering which resulted in the disposal of nearly every piece offered at fair prices, residence property in the western part of the city bringing relatively much the largest rates.

The steamer Montana is now announced to sail positively for Honolulu on Friday noon.

The steamer Alaska from Panama has on a very heavy load of freight and is expected to be a day or two behind time. It is not certain whether she will touch at Acapulco on the trip up.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

NEVADA.

EUREKA, Feb 28.—Indians have died recently at Coal Creek, Fast Diamond Mountain. It is believed that they were poisoned, as there is no small pox among them.

There were three more deaths from small pox at the pest house to-day. Every severe case taken there has resulted fatally.

Charles A. Parker, a prominent citizen of Eureka and an old newspaper man on the Pacific coast, died this morning.

Furnaces are all running and producing more bullion than ever before.

ARIZONA.

Indian Depredations

EHRENBURG, Arizona, Feb 24.—Martiny Station taken by Apaches, Colombo and two other men killed, six stage horses taken. No further particulars. Martiny Station is near Date Creek.

THE TERRITORIES.

The prisoners who escaped from the Idaho penitentiary a few days ago have all been retaken. They suffered severely from snow and cold. Their rations while out were snow pudding. One of them, Black, had his feet so badly frozen that it will probably be necessary to amputate them.

A few days ago at Boise City, Cottonwood creek broke over its bounds and ran down Main street. Quite a party of mining prospectors went to work in front of the National Bank. Several pans of dirt were washed out which gave a good yield. The Statesman says there is some gold in all the ground thereabout, but it is too deep and level for successful mining.

The voting at the municipal elections in Salt Lake City on the 12th inst. 4,958 were cast in all. D. H. Wells, the Mormon candidate, received 4,410; S. S. Walker, the Gentile candidate, received 547; scattering, R. H. Roberts 1. This don't look as if there was a very large Gentile force in Salt Lake City. Though the telegraph says the Gentiles let the election go by default when they became satisfied they were beaten, yet one would naturally suppose they would like to show their hands. It would at least give credit to those large petitions which have been sent to Washington.

Great Enterprise at Yreka

From the Yreka Journal of the 21st February we take this:

We learn by telegraphic dispatch from C. Edgerton, dated New York, February 10th, that the capital has been secured to proceed with the proposed enterprise of opening Yreka Creek. The sum of $60,000 will be immediately forwarded to pay for the property on the line, which has been bonded for that amount, and in a few months we may anticipate a large force of men to commence work on the building of the tunnel. This tunnel will be the means of affording drainage of the vast basin in which Yreka is located, known to be rich with the precious metal, prospects having been obtained in every direction from 25 cents to $1 to the pan. The only drawback to prevent successful mining is the lack of drainage, and as soon as the tunnel is built, every foot of ground between Hawkinsville and Greenhorn can be worked with great profit thereby largely increasing our population and affording a consumption of agricultural products so desirable to the farmer, who depends on home demand for a market, which he will have to rely upon even when the railroad is built, since freight will be too high to allow successful competition with other sections near the seaports. The Yreka tunnel enterprise will also be an incentive for the formation of companies to drain other sections of this county which will pay proportionately for the capital invested.

Excitement in Yamhill.

We have from the Statesman the subjoined of some queer doings in Yamhill:

One of the members of the State Temperance Alliance from Yamhill informs us that the whisky ring of Dayton has of late been disturbing the equilibrium of the society in various ways. It seems that a saloon keeper circulated a petition for a license and in order to accomplish his design, obtained signatures fraudulently, whereupon the temperance element remonstrated, and things were carried to such an extent that the affair finally landed in court, to test the veracity of certain parties who had made sworn statements. We have it that the persons alleged to have perjured themselves since the trial have been tormenting the village blacksmith who is a Good Templar and who played a prominent part in their prosecution. Early on a morning of last week they slipped in his shop unobserved, and placed in the forge a heavy blast of powder which they thought would explode as soon as the fire was kindled. He went to his work at the usual time, started his fire, and fortunately for him, he was not in the building when the blast went off. Other parties were but escaped unharmed. Damages to the property were quite severe. Several other cowardly and rascally tricks have also been performed. At this rate of procedure we shall expect to chronicle somebody's funeral soon.

A bill has been introduced in the California Legislature to change the name of Goose Lake to Lake Crook. This, we presume is in honor to Gen. Crook. Inasmuch as the lake is mainly in Oregon, the author of the bill proposes that California shall overstretch her jurisdiction. Oregon however has had so much to appreciate the worth and services of Gen. Crook that she would probably be willing enough for the change were it not bad policy to introduce changes in long established geographical names.

"Your dress," said a husband to a fashionable wife, "will never please the men." "I don't dress to please men," was the reply, "but to worry other women."

DRILLS! DRILLS! DRILLS!

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 13, 1871.

MR. H. H. TUTTLE, Portland, Oregon:

Dear Sir—In reply to your favor of Sept. 4th we will say, in regard to our Grain Drill taking the lead in the field, that it has always done so whenever it has come in competition with any other Drill, the Buckeye not excepted. Where we have the advantage over the Buckeye is in our two-pieced feed roller with cog opposite each space making sixteen discharges to every revolution of the feed-shaft and is strictly a force feed. Upon examination of the Buckeye feed you will see that it is nothing more than a fluted roller or rubbing feed with the opening of the cup cut down so low that the agitation lets the grain fall out instead of being forced out, and therefore cannot possibly distribute the grain as evenly as our feed will do, and upon these grounds we have always whipped them out whenever we met them in the field. As for the broadcast arrangement, we have no attachment, but we turn the Drill into as good a broadcast seeder as any of them have, which is done by turning the hoes in line for cultivators, taking out the rubber tubes and turning the shret[illegible] pans or conductors forward to the holes in the for[illegible] tube rail when you have as good a broadcast sower as the best of them. As for the Michigan Roller Drill, you have nothing to fear from that, for it does not amount to anything in this country and we do not think it will in yours, for all the place it can be used at all is on a very smooth sandy soil, on a clay or loam soil it cannot be used with any success. Besides, there are many other objections to it which will suggest themselves to you when you come to examine it.

With these off hand suggestions and the tact and sagacity you possess, we have no doubt, but that you will make the Statesman what it has been made in every other country, a success.

Wishing you health and prosperity, we are

THE FIRST LECTURE OF THE COURSE WILL BE delivered by REV. D. K. NESBIT (Corvallis) on Tuesday Evening, March 5th, 1872,

at 7½ o'clock.

SUBJECT— MISTAKES.

Mr. NESBIT'S lecture on "Shoddy," delivered in our City about a year ago was such a decided success that no one who heard it then will fail to hear him this time. The subject will admit of the same general treatment as "Shoddy," and will enable him to present the many different kinds of mistakes which make up the total of failure in human affairs, or from which we gain the experience necessary to success.

He will show the variety of mistakes, their use and danger—mistakes sad and ludicrous; mistakes in love, marriage, business, kitchens, fish, reforms, religion, politics, &c., &c. The Lecture will abound with illustrations drawn from the whole field of literature as well as real life. Its eccentric pathetic and amusing will sparkle here and there together with recitations from various authors.

In [illegible] a generally expressed desire Mr. Nesbit has consented to recite again the beautiful and inspiring poem of "Barbara Frietchie," in the previous rendition of which he showed himself a finished and dramatic elocutionist.

"In the name of the State [illegible] gon, where's [illegible]?" roared the constab[illegible] the fo'castle," replied the voice of per[illegible] the name of the State of Oregon, bring [illegible] key," the constable commanded, but th[illegible] failed to come with the key. Happily, [illegible] stable being a man of foresight, had bro[illegible] little hatchet with him, for he knew th[illegible] his little hatchet in his hand, he could no[illegible] lie. So, with his little hatchet in his h[illegible] advanced to the hatch which was locke[illegible] with a padlock and roared, "In the name [illegible] State of Oregon I break this lock," an[illegible] came the hatchet, away flew the lock, ope[illegible] the hatch, and up came the sailor who w[illegible] be habeas corpused out of that fo'castle [illegible] rest of the story is simply, that "in the [illegible] the State of Oregon," the constable and h[illegible] oner and the valiant band of encourage[illegible] ashore and left the vessel and the peril[illegible] voice alone in the dark.

NOW THE WOOD DEALERS.—A corre[illegible] of the Bulletin, encouraged by the atta[illegible] short-weight dealers comes forward and [illegible] complaint against the wood dealers for [illegible] short measure cords of wood. He says [illegible] been buying what seemed to him short [illegible] wood till at last he concluded to mea[illegible] cord. He found that he had received jus[illegible] three cord feet instead of one hundred and [illegible] eight or but little more than two-thirds [illegible] he had to pay for and what he ought [illegible] had. One of his neighbors complains [illegible] has long suffered the same sort of swindl[illegible] times getting but little more than half a [illegible] a cord. If these things be true the co[illegible] dent should have given the name of the d[illegible] dealer so that innocent parties might [illegible] under the imputation. The trick compl[illegible] is an old one and there are but few con[illegible] perhaps who have not at one time or [illegible] suffered from its practice.

ANOTHER OLD HORSE SALE.—Well[illegible] & Co's old horse sale took place yest[illegible] Mr. A. B. Richardson's auction rooms. [illegible] were a good many people present [illegible] bidding was not nearly so lively as it wou[illegible] been but for the recollection of that cor[illegible] Mitchell bought. One or two parties [illegible] made pretty good investments. One ga[illegible] for a small package which he found to [illegible] $17 50 colt, another got a pistol and w[illegible] a small sum, his purchase being worth [illegible] $50. Not a few of the purchases b[illegible] were y provocative of chagrin for the lu[illegible] of fun for the crowd. Quite a number [illegible] most promising packages contained o[illegible] nostrums of quack doctors. One gentlem[illegible] chased a package of cloth samples little [illegible] the style of a year or two ago, utterly val[illegible] anybody. He put them to wash in the l[illegible] lamet.

IN A [illegible] STATE.—An [illegible] complains that for over a week [illegible] from the north and laments as [illegible] deprived of our Portland dailies and [illegible] changes enough to make a saint scr[illegible] head. We haven't much idea h[illegible] feel when in such state that scratchi[illegible] head either by means [illegible] condition is anything like as desperate as [illegible] country editor deprived of [illegible] dailies we are sorry for the same.

THE END.—The [illegible] game case [illegible] ended yesterday. Two of the [illegible] been sent to the penitentiary and [illegible] (Newhall) against whom proof was n[illegible] and possible was discharged from the [illegible] on motion of the Prosecuting Attorney [illegible] reason that he deemed the evidence insuf[illegible] procure a conviction. The examples [illegible] made hereafter have had a good effect [illegible] been but [illegible] that sort of swindling f[illegible] in other.

LE[illegible]—We [illegible] our lecture goers [illegible] member that Mrs. M. M. Miller will le[illegible] evening at Philharmonic Hall [illegible] last present and future. We fully ex[illegible] with Mrs. Miller [illegible] lecture field and in more than all other [illegible] for an independent [illegible] friends and we should be more than [illegible] see her appearance tonight greeted [illegible] house.

M[illegible] COMPANY [illegible] incorporation of the Forest Hill Mining [illegible] filed in the County Clerk's office [illegible] corporators H. R. Thompson [illegible] and Joseph Myrick.

CITY.

The Office of The Daily and Weekly Oregonian is removed to the S E corner of Stark and Front streets

An Exciting Escapade —The case of the deserting seamen from the bark Metis assumed a new shape yesterday morning Up to that time the history of the affair had been about as follows Six men had left the ship and refused to return The Captain had them arrested and examined before U S Commissioner Wilcox who committed them to jail to await the order of the Captain A day or two afterward the Captain applied for five of the six men and they were sent on board the vessel where they were detained under guard the sixth being still in jail The next movement was to petition Judge Deady for a writ of habeas corpus The argument of counsel on this petition was heard on Tuesday The Judge took the matter under advisement till Thursday morning with the understanding that the Captain of the vessel should be responsible for the safe keeping of the men In the evening of the same day writs of arrest were sworn out by a boarding house keeper against the men for debt but the writs were not served Yesterday morning a tug hitched on to the Metis to tow her down to Springville, where she was to receive some freight After swinging the vessel out from the wharf some little distance the tug became temporarily disabled from some cause and the Metis swung back bows on to the wharf There were standing on the wharf at this time a large crowd of men who as was evident from their shouts and laughter sympathized with the deserters, and had gathered in the expectation that there would be some sort of excitement attendant upon the departure of the vessel As the bark struck the dock the deserters made a rush over the bark's rail, being assisted by some of the men on the wharf, others crying out, 'come ashore,' and a [illegible] hubbub and confusion ensued The second mate of the bark at this juncture rushed forward with a maul in his hands, just in time to [illegible] the fifth man, and drawing up the maul in readiness to strike, threatened the man that if he attempted to go off the vessel he would strike The crowd on shore were now calling out, Come ashore!" "Knock him down! "Arrest the —!" etc At this point of the proceeding a policeman, named Kelly jumped on board and arrested the 2d mate for an assault the crowd meantime yelling and making a great noise The Captain of the vessel came up by this time, and, catching the deserter threw him down by the lappels of his jacket, when the policeman, Kelly, left the second mate and arrested the Captain The deserter being thus free went ashore The two officers of the vessel were at once taken before the Police Judge, where they gave bail for their appearance this morning The vessel finally went on down to Springville The deserters succeeded in getting out of sight, and up to last evening had not been arrested

"In the Name of the State of Oregon"—The drubbles mit der Metis and her sailors, which have been so much before the public for a few days, have not been without some ludicrous features Tuesday night when the constable went down to arrest a seaman for debt he was [illegible] off, and he returned without having served the writ. It was understood that there would be great peril in effecting the arrest, inasmuch as the officer on deck was armed with a terrible [illegible] thing of some sort, and he had threatened peril to whomsoever should attempt to take a sailor off the bark Finally, at a late hour in the night, an officer was found who, after being [illegible] with a "straight" and the information if he went "in the name of the State of Oregon," and [illegible] the ship and demanded the prisoner, nobody would dare to resist him, concluded to make the perilous adventure Accordingly after taking some more "straight," he went down to the wharf with a number of strangers and backers, and striking an attitude of [illegible] to intimidate any enemy who [illegible] behold it, bawled out, "In the name of the State of Oregon, Metis ahoy!" "Who's [illegible], and what do you want?" came back from the [illegible]. "In the name of the State of Oregon, shove out your gang-plank," shouted the officer "You be d—d you can't come aboard here," replied the voice on deck "In the name of the State of Oregon, I'm coming aboard," said the warning voice of the constable And he and his [illegible] clambered over the rail, in the very face of peril, and stood proudly on the hostile [illegible]'s deck. "In the name of the State of Oregon, wh[illegible]?" roared the constable "In the fo'castle," replied the voice of peril "In the name of the State of Oregon, bring me the key," the constable commanded, but the voice failed to come with the key Happily, the constable being a man of foresight, had brought his little hatchet with him, for he knew that with his little hatchet in his hand, he could not tell a lie. So, with his little hatchet in his hand, he advanced to the hatch which was locked down with a padlock, and roared, "In the name of the State of Oregon, I break this lock" and down came the hatchet, away flew the lock, open came the hatch, and up came the sailor who wanted to be [illegible] out of that fo'castle The rest of the story is, simply, that "In the name of the State of Oregon," the constable and his prisoner, and the valiant band of encouragery, went [illegible] and left the vessel and the peril and the voice alone in the dark

Now the Wood Dealers —A correspondent of the Bulletin, encouraged by the attack upon short-weight dealers, comes forward and makes [illegible] against the wood dealers for selling short [illegible] cords of wood He says he has been buying what seemed to him short cords of wood, till at last, he concluded to measure a cord, he found that he had received just ninety three cord feet instead of one hundred and twenty eight, or but little more than two thirds of what he had to pay for, and what he ought to have had. One of his neighbors complains that he has long suffered the same sort of swindle, sometimes [illegible] but little more than half a cord for a cord. If these things be true, the correspondent should have given the name of the dishonest dealer, so that innocent parties might not rest under the imputation The trick complained of is an old one, and there are but few consumers perhaps, who have not at one time or another suffered from its practice

Another "Old Horse" Sale —Wells Fargo & Co's "old horse" sale took place yesterday at Mr. A B Richardson's auction rooms There were a good many people present but the bidding was not near so lively as it would have been but for the recollection of that "corpse that M[illegible] bought One or two parties, however made pretty good investments One gave $2 50 for a small package which he found to contain $17 50, coin, another got a pistol and watch for a small sum his purchase being worth perhaps $50 Not a few of the purchases, however were merely provocative of chagrin for the buyer and of fun for the crowd. Quite a number of the most promising packages contained only the nostrums of quack doctors One gentleman purchased a package of cloth samples little bits of the styles of a year or two ago utterly valueless to anybody He put them in wash in the big Wallamet.

In a Pitiable State —An Umpqua paper complains that for over a week it got no mail from the north, and laments as thus "To be deprived of our Portland dailies and valley exchanges is enough to make a saint scratch his head We haven't much idea how saints may feel when in such state that scratching their head is the only means of relief but if their condition is anything like as desperate as that of a country editor 'deprived of our Portland dailies,' we are sorry for the saints

The End —The noted strap game case came to an end yesterday Two of the operators had been sent to the penitentiary and the third (Newhall) against whom proof was not so clear and positive was discharged from the indictment on motion of the Prosecuting Attorney for the reason that he deemed the evidence insufficient to [illegible] a conviction The examples already made however, have had a good effect there has been but little of that sort of swindling for several months

Lecture —We hope our lecture goers will remember that Mrs M M Miller will lecture this evening at Philharmonic Hall on "Man—his past, present and future" We fully sympathize with Mrs M in her efforts in the literary and lecture field and more than all in her struggles for an independent pecuniary position among her friends and we should be more than pleased to see her appearance to night greeted by a full house

Mining Company Incorporated —Articles of incorporation of the Forest Hill Mining Co were filed in the County Clerk's office yesterday—incorporators R B Thompson J C Ainsworth and Joseph Myrick

REGULAR MEETING FEB 28 1872

Present—Councilmen Burton Caywood Combs Hallock Moffett Story and Mr Congle in the chair

PETITIONS.

J P O Lownsdale was granted the use of a portion of Second street for thirty days for building purposes

The petition of Spaulding Bros for the use of a portion of Stark street near First, for thirty days for building purposes was placed on file

From Messrs Herald & Tuttle setting forth that prior to the passage of the ordinance fixing the fire limits they had commenced the erection of a wooden building on Oak street and that since the passage of said ordinance they had been directed to suspend They ask that they may be allowed to continue the work On motion the petition was placed on file

From S J McCormick setting forth that as administrator of the estate of T G Robinson he had contracted in the month of September, 1871, for the erection of four buildings on First street and three on Pine, that the buildings on First street have been completed and one on Pine street and that owing to the passage of the ordinance fixing the fire limits he is unable to complete the other two buildings on Pine street In view of these facts and that the contractor still holds him to the original contracts, he asks permission to erect the two buildings aforesaid Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

From A Wendt, First Assistant Engineer of the Portland Fire Department asking, in view of the many responsible and arduous duties attached to his office, that the Council fix a salary to his office Ordered placed on file

From J C Vanzant and others, remonstrating against the improvement of South First street Referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property

Permission was granted to E J Bryan to use a portion of Twelfth street for building purposes

From G W Vaughn, representing that he is the owner of certain property lying adjacent to the foot of Madison street and that he proposes to erect a warehouse and grain elevator and in order to accomplish this design, he asks the Council to vacate the foot of said Madison street Referred to the Committee on Landings and Wharves

REPORTS

About "Another Bunkum"—"The 'boss commissioner' receives no pay for recording the proceedings of the Police Court."—Herald

Well who has said he does? He does get pay, though, for recording the proceedings of the Board of which he is the "Boss" Commissioner He gets, too, a good deal of pay in proportion to the work done For instance "The Board meets, talks matters over, advises with one another, and adjourns At the proper time the Boss' bill is presented to the Council thus The city debtor to one day's service as Police Commissioner, $3 , one day's service, (following day) "recording the proceedings and executing the orders of the Board," $3 The charge of $3 for one day's service (half an hour in the evening) is according to the usual custom in such matters all right enough but how about the other $3 for "recording the proceedings and executing the orders of the Board"? The "proceedings," about half the time, are about as follows "Board met—present, Hallock and Burke, Hallock in the Chair The minutes of the last meeting read and approved Mr Hallock laid before the Board a communication from Simon Snoozer asking to be appointed on the Police Force On motion of Mr. Burke, ordered that the communication of Simon Snoozer be taken under advisement—opinion of the Board reserved On motion of Mr Burke, the Board adjourned" Next day the Boss charges up $3 for "recording the proceedings and executing the orders of the Board" That's how it is, and that's what's the matter with Hannah

Accidental Discharge of a Shotgun —Last evening, a boy of fifteen or sixteen years, from the country, was unloading a wagon on Washington street, when in pulling off some blankets from his wagon, he accidentally discharged a shot gun which lay entangled in the blankets The muzzle was toward him, and the entire charge passed so near his head that one shot actually struck him in the throat, cutting across it so as to draw blood pretty freely The boy quietly turned to a bystander and, exhibiting his throat, asked coolly, "Is it cut much?" and then went on unloading his wagon as though nothing had happened

Overboard —Late Tuesday evening, Mr Wm J Herren of Marion county, brought across the river on the Stark street ferryboat, five beef steers for one of the city markets Upon driving them ashore the cattle ran up Front street to Washington and thence down on to the wharf under the American Exchange Hotel They seemed to be in a sort of panic or stampede and two of them ran so recklessly as to go overboard into the river where they were drowned Another fell into a hole in the wharf, and was somewhat injured but was rescued.

Arrived —The steamer Gussie Telfair arrived during Thursday night, from Sitka and way ports She is to sail on return trip Friday morning

The Rape Case —J Hoppy indicted for rape upon a little girl, will be put upon trial in the Circuit Court to day.

AMUSEMENTS

Oro Fino Theater.—There was only a middling audience at Oro Fino last evening to witness the third representation of "Massaniello" The performance, therefore, went off rather quietly, except that, now and then a passage or picture more brilliant than the average, brought out a burst of applause The representation itself was as nearly faultless as it could well be rendered, considering the structure of the stage The piece however, has not been so successful as had been expected. It will be repeated again to night It really deserves a better patronage than it has had for its scenery and dress are good the groupings and tableaux, the music and dancing are excellent, and the final picture is striking and grand Aggravated Indigestion.

Persons who are predisposed to dyspepsia find their sufferings from this cause greatly aggravated by damp weather, easterly winds and sudden changes from a mild to a chilling atmosphere In the spring therefore the pangs of indigestion are seriously augmented by the atmospheric variations peculiar to the season, and it is incumbent upon all who desire to pass through the ordeal of its cold mists and insalubrious gales with easy stomachs and untormented by the indescribable torments which accompany dyspepsia to tone and strengthen the digestive organs with a healthful and effective vegetable invigorant. No one at all familiar with the medical record of the age, can question for one moment that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the Tonic best adapted to this purpose

The credentials of the Great Restorative are unequalled in number and character by those of any other advertised medicine in the world If ever there was a preparation to rank as a National Remedy this wonderful specific has a right to the title. For a period of twenty years it has literally been the Champion Tonic and Alterative on this side of the Atlantic Its popularity it has never been approached by any of its would be competitors and its annual sales are so far in advance of those of any other medicine of its class that comparisons would be ridiculous One of two conclusions is inevitable Either Americans are deficient in common sense incapable of rational discrimination or Hostetter's Bitters is the best preventive remedy for indigestion, fever and ague, bilious remittent fever constipation rheumatism nervous complaints and all maladies of an epidemic or endemic type The reader can judge for himself which of the two conclusions is most consistent with fact and reason

LITTLE HOMES!

WE HAVE OBTAINED MANY TESTIMONIALS, which appear in the Weekly Oregonian for the purpose of answering once for all the many inquiries in relation to our LITTLE HOMES! We desire to show to strangers, through men of known integrity in this community that they are all we claim for them cheap at present prices, and the speculation in them lies in the future growth of Portland, in the building of Railroads, and Bridges over the Willamette—which is merely a question of time—and in the fact that in less than one mile distant, City Blocks (200 feet square) are [illegible] for from two to three thousand dollars, and in less than two-and-a-half miles (on a direct line) blocks are selling as high as $200,000 per block! Just think of it! $60 per acre for land and 2½ miles distant, $800,000 per acre! New York city is over twenty miles in length and six miles wide, and many other cities in the United States are built that long and quite as wide, and if Portland becomes a metropolis she will require this land for building purposes Thirty years ago we could have purchased a section of land where the business portion of Chicago now stands for $10 per acre $50 for a five acre tract Thirty years ago we could have purchased the town site of Portland for a Cayuse pony—but we didn't have the pony! Twenty years ago a solitary individual with neither money nor friends found himself in Portland without a red He purchased a basket on tick and filled it with oranges on the same terms, and went to peddling Twenty long eventful years have since elapsed Still that sturdy old pioneer has stuck to Portland, and worked his way through thick and thin and now where do you think he is?—in the poor house and owes for the basket! But to our [illegible] which may [illegible] precious than silver [illegible] nations the pioneers have been a [illegible] might have been expected [illegible] would perish with them [illegible] the founders of this State [illegible] especially [illegible] of this Society were [illegible] people [illegible] the wild [illegible] forests like [illegible] at the [illegible] education [illegible] and religion. Of the one hundred [illegible] from New England 31, [illegible] in the Middle States 27, from the South and 7 from the West. We have [illegible] the proof that these pioneers were [illegible] and scenes of barbarism. Of [illegible] was able to [illegible]. And any one who will cast his eye over [illegible] the first page of autograph he will be struck with the plainness and neatness of the chirography. It is doubtful if there can be found in any community a class of persons taken indiscriminately who can exhibit so elegant a list of autographs as we have on this first page. Some of these pioneers are advanced in years, but they all retain their vigor and freshness to a remarkable degree. The oldest of them though far advanced in age and having been long away from the scenes of their childhood have kept abreast of the times in which they live. Though the honored President of the Society has been forty years in Oregon he by no means has the appearance of a fossil man, who lived at an earlier period of the earth's history. A few weeks ago I found lying on the beach two sticks of timber closely bolted together. Two sides were covered with sheet copper badly battered and broken. The surface bore the appearance of lumber in a state of decay. I struck the block with an ax and to my surprise with the exception of a thin scale on the surface I found the wood in a perfect state of preservation. One piece was live oak or locust and the other the finest specimen of mahogany I ever saw. I presume this timber came from the old Sylvia de Grace which has lain in our harbor a wreck for more than twenty years. These pieces of an old wreck afford a good emblem of the Oregon Pioneers. Their hoary locks and furrowed visages indicate age, but he who supposes they are antiquated is wonderfully mistaken. Whoever will chip them a little will find the true mahogany in a perfect state of preservation. I incidentally tapped one of these dry old pioneers the other day, who bore as much external appearance of a fossil as any of them and I not only found him thoroughly posted in the news of the day which is secured by a careful and discriminating reading of the newspapers, but he had digested the most popular works of recent English literature, and as a pastime, during the winter had been reviewing Homer's Iliad and Odyssey. I do not know where to find a young man whose mind is fresher, or so well stored with modern literature, or so fully posted in recent events. It has been the character of pioneers in other lands and other times especially of ruder culture, to be fond of relating their experiences, frequently ad nauseam of adventures, exploits, perils, hardships and achievements, that they might awaken sympathy. But such is not a general trait of these pioneers. It is seldom the the lot of pioneers to meet with more trials than did these early settlers of Oregon but they have borne their privations and hardships manfully, heroically.

Venerable men, we revere your patience and fortitude, we admire your daring enterprise. The heavens over our heads seem brighter, the river that rolls at our feet grander and yonder ocean more peaceful on account of your arduous labors and fearless exploits. The foundations you have laid are broad and deep, and shall endure. When we cast our eyes abroad over this once far off, wild sunset land and remember that you have brought it into the loving sisterhood of States when we behold this desert made to bud and blossom as the rose, when we gaze upon the broad fields waving with abundant harvests, when we look upon the commerce that whiten our harbors, the growing cities and happy villages the churches and school houses you have erected, when we perceive the peace and plenty that everywhere abounds, and consider the intelligence, virtue and happiness that characterizes our people, we heartily thank you for what you have accomplished. May the Father of mercies smile upon your declining years and bless them. You know the value of education, and have experienced some of the privileges and happy uses which arise from a mind well stored with knowledge and it is not strange that you desire to erect a monument of intelligence which shall speak words of wisdom when you are dead. "Mind is the great lever of all things human thought is the process by which human ends are answered." The diffusion of knowledge is the glory of our age. Every breeze wafts intelligence from continent to continent, and every wave rolls from sea to sea. In our times, civilization is urged forward to a great extent by the press. The history of the past, and the garnered thoughts of the greatest minds, are among the richest treasures that can be bequeathed to posterity.

The Egyptians gloried in physical power, and we find as the monuments they left behind them, the greatest and hugest structures of stone entombing the desiccated bodies of their builders. The Greeks gloried in æsthetic culture and bowed at the shrine of genius and art and we find as their garnered monuments the master pieces of sculpture and painting, and the most elaborately finished specimens of poetry. We find the ideals of other nations entombed or embalmed in their monuments. But ours is an intellectual age, in which there is an increasing interest in gathering up, and preserving for use, the great facts and principles which tend to the cultivation of Man's higher nature. This is a scientific age, in which the popular mind searches for the great principles and elements in nature and is engaged in arresting and bringing into use nature's forces. To make any progress in science, at this advanced stage of the world, one must humbly gather up the fruits of past research, and using that vast pyramid of knowledge as a fulcrum proceed to lift into light undiscovered wonders. All the valuable facts in history all the known principles in science, and all the practical uses to which learning has been applied have been recorded on the printed page so that he who will read may understand.

The monuments that most fitly represent our times are the archives of learning, hence we and all thoughtful people interested in collecting and preserving all useful information and in founding and furnishing libraries where all that is valuable may be learned. It was a happy thought of the Oregon Pioneers when they in the decline of life determined to establish a library and reading room. A more fitting and enduring monument they cannot erect to their memory. To be held in grateful and lasting remembrance by posterity we must do that which will remind them of their indebtedness to us. Of nothing are an intelligent people more proud than of their library. Some men of wealth who desired to immortalize their names have endowed magnificent libraries. At one time a gentleman called upon John Jacob Astor and solicited a donation toward founding a free library in New York city. Mr Astor replied "I will consider the matter." In a short time he informed his friend that he had determined to found a free library himself alone and took immediate steps to put his resolution into effect by setting apart $400,000. The result is one of the finest libraries in America free to all who will go there and read. That monument will hold Mr Astor in [illegible] remembrance when every other vestige of him has sunken to forgetfulness.

It is said the same gentleman who asked a donation of Mr Astor for the New York library was also one of the founders of the Boston free library. In connection with that the names of [illegible] Bates and others [illegible].

In the early history of Wisconsin while a [illegible] few hours of [illegible] the [illegible] public library [illegible] they have a [illegible] of books and in the [illegible] will compare favorably with other States. At an early day a few business men founded the public library of San Francisco which to day ranks among the first in the land. It cost $500,000 and contains 30,000 volumes. A similar scheme undertaken by the pioneers of Oregon, is a laudable one. One of the best things you can do for yourselves to cheer your declining years and one of the best for posterity is to build this monument of garnered facts thoughts and principles. Another aim of the Pioneers, that of establishing a press to place in a permanent form and give publicity to all the important facts that may be gathered in relation to the early history of Oregon and its founders is equally praiseworthy. The press is one of the most mighty agents in wielding influence in the world. Bullets of paper do more toward subduing evil than bullets of lead. Let these two enterprises be carried to completion and be assured the world will hold you in lasting respect. Venerable men! may the Father of all spare your lives and vouchsafe his blessing long after your beneficent designs are accomplished.

Rev Mr Tenney at the close of the above address said: "It is customary for ministers to close their exercises by reading a hymn. He would, by permission of the President read a piece of original poetry, composed for this occasion, by F M [illegible] of Astoria." He then read as follows

THE OREGON PIONEERS.

To-day we celebrate the birth
Of Washington the blest
The sainted father of our land
Revered from East to West

But while our hearts recall his name
With tender loyal pride
A place in history we claim
For others by his side

This honor to those noble men,
And noble women true
The Pioneers of Oregon
In truth is justly due

What tongue can sing what pencil paint,
The labors of that band,
Who sought in days of long ago
A home in this wild land

The toil and dangers they endured
By mountain pass and plain
The efforts here to found a State
Thank God were not in vain

To-day we reap what they then sowed
With painful toil and fears
And richer harvests still await
The sweep of ripening years

The monument they seek to raise
A [illegible]-light shall be
That all the ages down the stream
Of coming time, shall see

God speed the work! rich may it be
With history's garnered stores
A mine of knowledge, where shall delve
The children of these shores

Long live our brave old Pioneers
And when life's errands are o'er
May they attain a home and crown,
On the eternal shore

F M

Astoria, Feb 22, 1872.

This address and poem were listened to with profound attention, and received unanimous applause at the close, and by unanimous vote of the Society, they, with a synopsis of the proceedings of the meeting, in connection with the address of the President and reports of officers, were ordered to be furnished to the presses in Portland, with a request for publication.

After singing "A Hundred Years to Come," by the amateurs, the President announced that the next business was the election of officers, by ballot.

On count of ballots, Solomon Harding Smith was declared elected President; Jas. Taylor, Vice President; W H Gray, Corresponding and J. G Hustler, Recording Secretary; A VanDusen, Treas.; S P Powers, James Welch and J H D Gray, Directors.

The proposed constitutional amendments were part adopted and part rejected.

Adjourned to 7 o'clock P M.

The following resolutions were presented and adopted:

1st Any male or female being entitled to become a subscribing member entitles the wife or husband to the same privilege.

2d A vote of thanks to Rev Mr Tenny and a request for a copy of his address and the poem he read.

3d Thanks to Mr Hyland and the amateur singers.

4th Reduces the assessment on voting members to $1 50 per annum.

5th All persons irrespective of date of arrival in the country, contributing to the capital stock of the Society $50, are voting members.

6th All signing corresponding and honorary members are consulting members, entitled to seats and to speak in all its meetings.

7th Refers back the report of the Library, Reading Room and Printing Press Committee to the same, with instructions to proceed in their work to carry the same into effect, in connection with the Executive Board.

8th That a synopsis of the minutes be furnished for publication.

9th Thanks of the Society to J F Barrows for his kindness in furnishing the Society with a room and lights, etc.

10th The Corresponding and Recording Secretaries to furnish copies of this report to the press.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

WEDNESDAY EVENING Feb 28 1872

Gold in New York, 110⅝.

Portland Legal Tender quotations 90c buying and 91c selling.

The steamship Gussie Telfair arrived last night. A copy of her manifest is given below.

The British ship Chetah finished discharging cargo Railroad Iron to-day. She commences to receive return cargo of Wheat to-morrow.

The bark Almy is discharging cargo at Flanders wharf.

The steamship Gussie Telfair is announced to leave for Sitka on March 1st.

The steamship California will leave here for Victoria and Puget Sound on Wednesday afternoon.

The steamship Idaho will leave here for San Francisco Monday afternoon.

In speaking of the arrival of the bark Coldstream the types made us say she was loaded with Ordnance Stores, whereas she has on a cargo of assorted merchandise. A schooner reported off the bar is supposed to have a cargo of Ordnance Stores.

Business continues to improve under an active call from the upper Willamette valley and down the Columbia river. A few orders were received by the Gussie Telfair which will be sent forward by her on return. The trade with the Walla Walla and Umatilla sections have not set in yet although goods were received yesterday and to-day by the O S N Co for forwarding to the above places. With the present active demand ruling shipments will have to be made with renewed energy to keep up assortments.

From the commercial department of the Herald we extract the following:

Mr Grant of the Dalles informs us that the loss of stock in Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington Territory has been greatly exaggerated. Mr Grant is in a position that enables him to be better informed than any other person east of the Cascades. He thinks that prices on foot will not be advanced but on the contrary may drop in prices.

The Puget Sound district and Victoria obtain the bulk of their supplies from Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington Territory and had the loss of stock east of the Cascades been equal to the reports first reaching us, the valleys of the Willamette, Umpqua and Rogue river would have been drained of all desirable lots and prices would have advanced to as high figures as rule in California. From information received by us from different sources we hardly encourage the opinion that prices on foot will recede however desirable it may be to consumers. The supply of stock for slaughtering in Western Oregon is less than ever before known. Several causes have combined to bring about this state of affairs, the principal reason being the growing scarcity of grazing land—it being more profitable to cultivate the land than let it remain idle for grazing purposes, and the consequence is that many who owned bands of twenty five head and upwards have disposed of them and keep only one or two for dairy purposes, while others have driven their stock to the ranges east of the Cascades so that now only a few bands of beef cattle can be found in this valley and in the Umpqua and Rogue river valleys the same process of clearing out is in operation. The number of cattle driven east of the Cascades is not equal to the number that have been taken out of the valleys in Western Oregon and therefore they have either been driven out into California or else been slaughtered. Our population is rapidly increasing and the consumption of necessity increases in proportion. Wild game [illegible] largely supplied a large share of food [illegible]

[illegible] Bitter [illegible] By [illegible] under date of Dec 15 1871 [illegible] From the Trade [illegible] we learn that at that date the [illegible] depressed [illegible] Wheat [illegible] for the [illegible] New Wheat [illegible] Adelaide market and also at Melbourne and Liverpool in January of this year. The [illegible] of Wheat at South Australia was reported [illegible]

CONTEMPTIBLE!

THE POPULARITY WHICH THE

OAHU BITTERS!

Are rapidly acquiring has induced certain jealous parties in the darkness of night to cover up the posters of these Bitters with those of their own through the city.

All may see in this act the stooping attitude of a humbug.

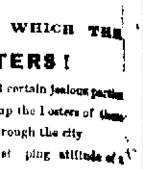
TO THE UNFORTUNATE,
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal H[illegible] of Europe and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San F[illegible], where his old patients and those requiring his [illegible] may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from absorbed into the system! Look at their [illegible] and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of [illegible] or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let guardians, friends, attend to those who are afflicted with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his special study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many [illegible] doctors who infest all cities, publishing [illegible] in curing all [illegible] in a few days [illegible] public by using the names of eminent physicians [illegible] Europe and other places. Be therefore careful [illegible] strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of [illegible] charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

[illegible] solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence [illegible] by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited [illegible] producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots [illegible] the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, the rustling of leaves and rattling of [illegible] about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, [illegible] in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, flushes; pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If [illegible] not obtained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give [illegible] Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by any of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are [illegible] under any of these fearful maladies, should not [illegible] sacred responsibility resting upon them, [illegible] obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give his patients a written instrument, binding himself [illegible] radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon, stating symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, [illegible] medicines promptly forwarded, free from [illegible] curiosity, to any part of the country, with full directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in a letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co. a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and [illegible] who, with bogus sworn to certificates, dupe the [illegible] Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and [illegible] lazy too work at their trades. Some are [illegible] makers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office [illegible] etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the [illegible] for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid [illegible] is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets, for, as advertising physicians in [illegible] cases out of ten are bogus there is no safety in [illegible] any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. [illegible] Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his [illegible] his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.
